Did UFO stop here?

PLEASANTON — A UFO may have made a pit stop for water in Pleasanton at 1:50 a.m. March 13, according to a report filed by Robert Coffey with the UFO Reporting Center in Seattle.

Coffey is a former United States Air Force weatherman. He lives in Pleasanton.

Coffey reported he and his family were going to bed when they heard a sound like a swarm of bees. Looking outside, they saw white, red and green lights flashing from a huge bell-shaped UFO. It hovered eight minutes near a high water tower then disappeared.

Coffey told the Center the UFO had been moving in a straight line toward the east at a low altitude. He mentioned the triangular fuselage was plainly visible.

The Center recorded 0150 as the official time the UFO was sighted by Coffey. Center officials said Coffey could be considered a trained observer.

Information officers at Vandenberg Air Force Base confirmed there were no rocket launchings on March 13 at or near 0150.

After hearing about Coffey's report, a Pleasanton lady phoned the Times yesterday to report she had seen "strange lights about two weeks ago sometime during the early morning."

She wishes to remain anonymous.

"I don't know what woke me up unless it was the lights flashing through our bedroom window," she said. "They were red, green and white and kept moving around — like one of those globes with mirrors on them you see turning above the middle of a dance floor."

She said she first thought the lights were caused by a passing ambulance or other emergency vehicle.

"Then I remembered our backyard was situated so there was no way to see any lights from the street; especially since there is a very high fence obstructing the view. And I couldn't hear any sounds of sirens or anything else," she said. She said she felt exhausted and strange.

"I couldn't seem to move — like I was hypnotized or something. I'm usually the kind of person who jumps right up to see what is going on. I thought I was imagining things and sort of lost track of time."

"Then I heard people talking about the lights," she continued. "At first I thought it was my children but when I asked them later they said they hadn't heard or seen anything. My husband didn't either."

She said she watched the lights until they went away.

"Then I got up to check on the children. They were sound asleep. I went back to bed but could not sleep very well the rest of the night. That strange feeling I had left when the lights did."

The next morning she said she went outside to check around for anything unusual.

"Everything seemed ok until I did my routine check of the swimming pool. It was down an inch from what it had been two days before and it hasn't gone down any since."

The lady said the pool measures 20x40. She said she did not think the weather at that time was hot enough to cause the water to evaporate.

"We haven't been running the heater and all of the other equipment is operating normally."

Now pickets are picketed by employees

DUBLIN — Sporting an orange hunting cap and matching mittens, Phil Thomas paces back and forth in front of Drug City with a sign that says: UNFAIR — PLEASE DO NOT PATRONIZE THIS STORE.

Sometimes a couple of women come out of the drugstore with picket signs of their own. UNION GO HOME, says one.

The pickets greet each other civilly, if a little snidely, and follow each other around in circles.

Paul Moffatt

The bizarre situation at Drug City, Paul Moffatt's $300,000 a year business on Dublin Boulevard, is in its fourth month now.

Employees are beginning to know Phil and Jim, the two union pickets who they say are "fixtures" in front of the store like the signs and the window displays except that the pickets also greet shoppers.

Meanwhile, pharmacist Moffatt, whose employees say they want to get rid of Retail Clerks Union Local 870, is wondering how he can get the pickets away from his store.

"All I want is an election," he claims. "But the union won't honor it. They won't take the pickets away unless I sign their new contract."

Union agent Ken Beasley confirms Moffatt's assessment of the situation. Local 870 pickets, he says, will be there indefinitely until Moffatt puts his clerks back into the union, whether they say they want it or not, and signs a new contract. Their last contract ran out Oct. 1.

But, the union agent adds, last fall when the union contract ran out, there had been support for Local 870. Then Moffatt laid off his clerks, claimed he wanted to run an all-family business, and later rehired.

Two of his five union people quit and those who remain or were hired since, says Beasley, are "so humiliated and scared now" that they say they don't want the union.

Three employees told The Times yesterday they don't want to pay union dues ($60 to join, $6 per month), don't need the benefits and "the union never did much for us anyway."

One clerk said, "As far as employers, we can't beat the one we have now."

Castlewood could join Nipper fracas

Alameda County Bureau

HAYWARD — Castlewood homeowners may be drawn into the battle over Carl Nipper's "Sunol Estates" proposed for the Pleasanton Ridge.

Buffeted by Sunol people last month because the access road to his project would feed traffic into their town, yesterday he offered county planning commissioners an alternative road that would wind eastward from the ridge through the Rohn Ranch to Foothill Road.

But Sunol protesters say the compromise won't work.

Spokesman Lynn Bowers told commissioners the new road should drop northeast from the ridge and come out in Castlewood or at the Verona Bridge. Those routes, he argued, would provide, instant access to the freeway.

But since the Verona Bridge was closed by the county as structurally unsafe, the Castlewood route would be better, he said.

The new road admittedly is "a result of the environmental hearing at Sunol School," said Nipper's partner, Paul Heck. But the new design "is not intended to be an engineered, final design of the road."

County planners accept the modification — with reservations — but object principally to some sharp curves and a 15 per cent grade near Foothill Road.

Heck said those problems could be ironed out and leveled.

Completion of the new route also could increase pressure for development of the sprawling Rohn Ranch property, claim county planners.

The road designed originally to feed traffic into Sunol would be blocked with a break-through barrier and used by emergency vehicles only, thus eliminating objections of one road to serve the ridge top community in an emergency.

County planners say the new proposal would feed traffic on to Foothill at a "very hazardous stretch of road," according to Bruce Fry.

Basically, said Sunol spokesman Bowers, "the road is too steep, too narrow, too tight, and too small a site distance" from freeway access.

"Two-thirds of the traffic will still be going to the East Bay," he argued, thus pushing the traffic through Castlewood "would take (it) away from Sunol and mitigate all the traffic arguments."

Commissioners will reopen the hearing April 11.

August's court victory overturned

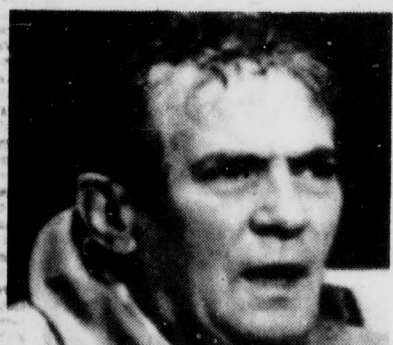

Leshner News Bureau

MARTINEZ — A Superior Court judge has overturned a jury verdict in the trial of San Ramon teacher Boyer August which awarded him $25,000 on the grounds that he was unjustly demoted.

Judge Raymond J. Sherwin, visiting judge from Solano County who presided over the trial early this year, made his ruling upon a motion by Jon Hudak, attorney for the San Ramon Unified School District.

August sued the school board last year after he was demoted from his position at San Ramon High in 1975 for alleged insubordination.

'Deprogramming' halted

Parents of five young members of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church were ordered Monday to stop efforts to "deprogram" their children while an appeals court considers their case.

The ruling came as the parents and professional deprogrammers from the Freedom of Thought Foundation in Tucson, Ariz., were poised to begin intensive efforts to wean the young adults away from the church.

Sabotage ruled out

Spanish authorities on Monday ruled out sabotage or control tower error in the collision of American and Dutch jumbo jets that killed 575 persons in the greatest tragedy of aviation history.

A Pan American spokesman said there were 70 survivors, including the pilot, from its plane but 326 were killed — 317 passengers and nine crew members.

KLM officials reported all 248 passengers and crew members on its jet perished in the flames and explosions.

A's is dead?

Are the Oakland A's, with their revolving door going full tilt, going to be any kind of a threat in the American League's Western Division this season? Most sensible observers say no. But some take the problems of the debilitated A's a step further and call the club a "third" expansion team.

Times reporter Al Fischer took a gander at the A's down in Arizona over the weekend and agrees that Oakland will, indeed, have a hard time matching up with the Seattle Mariners and Toronto Blue Jays — much less the Royals or Angels.

Con artist stings two gas stations

Leshner News Bureau

ALAMO — A slick talking con man beat two San Ramon Valley gas stations out of a total of $240 Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies said the man, posing as a "Dr. Anderson," first approached an attendant at a station at 3157 Danville Blvd. and asked if he could have $40 to hire a locksmith. He said his keys were locked in his car.

The attendant, Dan Enstrom, 20, Walnut Creek, at first said no.

But the man then offered to give Enstrom his watch as collateral in return for $100.

The con man talked to another station employee and Enstrom handed over the money under the impression that his co-worker knew the man.

When Enstrom showed the watch to his father, he was told it was a phony. The gold-colored watch said "Omega Electric" on the face which was encircled with 36 simulated diamonds, deputies said.

Later Sunday the man turned up at a gas station at 2735 Crow Canyon Rd., where an attendant was fleeced out of $140.

The attendant there also turned the man down, asking him to telephone station owner Andrew Krisovich.

Whopping fish story at Del Valle

The fishing was so great at Del Valle Lake last weekend, you didn't even have to drop a line into the water to take home a limit of rainbow trout.

All you had to do was sit there on the bank with a string. When people figured out you didn't have your five fish yet they'd come rushing up with offerings. "Here, can you use this? I already have my limit."

Ideal for us non-fisherspersons who just trail along for the sunshine and the fish dinners. Just sit there for a few minutes, collect everybody else's extras and then...DINNERTIME.

The guy in the next campsite had come from Santa Clara. He and his kids caught 25 fish between 10:30 a.m. and noon. They spent the rest of the day giving out little maps showing where they caught them.

Wife arrested after allegedly shooting husband
LIVERMORE — An Aster Lane resident in good condition in Veterans Administration Hospital in Livermore after his wife allegedly shot him in the groin following an argument Saturday night.

In custody on charges of assault with a deadly weapon is Naomi Ruth Clement, 41, of Aster Lane in Livermore. Her husband, Robert Addison Clement Jr., 54, was taken to Valley Memorial Hospital following the shooting. He was transferred to Veterans Hospital where he is reported in satisfactory condition.

According to police, the couple had been arguing in their Aster Lane home when she reportedly struck and then bit her husband. He allegedly pushed her into a chair. They both walked into the kitchen, whereupon she grabbed a loaded .357 magnum handgun from atop the refrigerator, told him to stay back, and then allegedly fired a single shot into his groin.

The couple's two sons reportedly witnessed the entire incident.

Naomi Clement was formally charged with assault with a deadly weapon by the district attorney's office yesterday.

Attempted rape on 60-year-old Sunol woman; suspect held
SUNOL — A 24-year-old Fremont man who reportedly posed as an out-of-work handyman is being held on suspicion of attempting to rape a 60-year-old Sunol woman noon Saturday.

Lawrence Potts, 24, of 36409 Frobisher Drive in Fremont was arrested at his home Sunday night following an investigation by the Alameda County Sheriff's Department. He was booked on suspicion of attempted rape and armed robbery.

According to reports, a man approached the Niles Canyon Road residence and asked if there was any work that needed to be done. She invited the man in and let him use the bathroom. When he came out, he chased the woman around the house and caught her, allegedly forcing her to attempt numerous sex acts.

The suspect allegedly grabbed the woman's purse and was ready to leave when a car pulled up outside. The woman ran to the front door and screamed for help, but was reportedly pulled back inside.

The suspect jumped in his car and drove off at a high rate of speed southbound.

An investigation by Dep. Dan McClelland of the sheriff's department led to Pott's arrest Sunday night at his home. There was no report available on the victim's condition.

Police car allegedly struck by irate motorist
LIVERMORE — A police officer received minor injuries Saturday afternoon when his patrol car was allegedly struck deliberately by a man the officer had given a ticket to moments earlier.

According to police reports, Officer Brian Woodard was on patrol about 12:30 Saturday afternoon when he spotted a man he knew driving without a license. Woodard followed the suspect into a service station on Portola Avenue and issued the man a citation for driving with a suspended license. He left after warning the man not to drive again.

About a minute later, Woodard again spotted the man driving on Portola. He followed the suspect, and as he began to drive through the intersection of Portola and North P streets, he saw the suspect accelerating his vehicle directly towards the patrol car.

Woodard said the driver was looking right at the him as the suspect allegedly plowed his car into the patrol unit. An off-duty sheriff's deputy helped effect the arrest, as Woodard reported neck pains as a result of the collision.

Curtis Edward Blake, 38, of 650 Brookfield Drive was booked on suspicion of assault on a police officer.

'Last' Bonita Park party quelled
PLEASANTON — A party at Bonita Park with an estimated 500 participants was held under control Sunday afternoon when sheriff's deputies closed Foothill Road on each end and handed out dozens of citations to violators as they departed.

Deputies said about 60 cyclists, including a group of Hell's Angels, were gathering inside the park about 1:30 Sunday afternoon. Many persons had parked their vehicles on Foothill Road and crossed private property to enter the park, so were handed citations for trespassing as they left.

The park will be officially closed March 31, and deputies said patrols will be increased in the area so vandalism does not continue.

Two men arrested during alleged burglary
LIVERMORE — Two men who parked their car next to a police patrol car were arrested as they allegedly attempted to steal a piece of construction equipment from a PG&E tractor, police reported.

Officer Charles Bell was parked at a service station at Holmes and Catalina streets just after midnight Saturday when he saw a car park near the Sunset construction site. Two men got out of the car and opened the trunk.

Bell called for back-up units as one man ran up a steep bank while the other drove their vehicle up behind a parked tractor. Bell followed and ordered the men from the car when he spotted a bucket from the tractor's backhoe in the car's trunk.

Police said the bucket had "PG&E" engraved on it. Booked on suspicion of grand theft were Sammie Joe Noble, 20, of 83 Vallecitos Road in Livermore, and Ronald Ray Stokes, 22, of Hayward.

Poplar Way home hit by burglars
DUBLIN — Burglars apparently forced open a window to gain entrance to a Poplar Way home Saturday evening and took more than $1,100 in valuables, deputies reported. Richard and Althea Miller returned home from the movies about 10:45 Saturday night and discovered the burglary. Missing items include a movie camera, jewelry, power tools and the family's Easter candy. There are no suspects.

Vandals attack Karl Wente Park
LIVERMORE — Vandals caused more than $1000 damage at Karl Wente Park late Friday by driving over a sprinkler control and a PG&E meter, police reported. Police said a late model blue Ford pickup truck was seen in the area about the time of the attack. There are no suspects at this time.

Bold step in medical teaching

A trio of Amador Valley High School teachers and assistant principal Tom Himmelberg are organizing an innovative bio-medical curriculum that will involve some 30 students in the district over the next two years.

So thorough and far-reaching is the program, the 30 selected will spend three hours a day, five days a week in the program for the two years.

Students who express a strong interest and aptitude in the Bio-Medical Interdisciplinary Curriculum Project (BICP), will begin studies in September. Of necessity, they must be sophomores this year—though one or two current freshmen might be included.

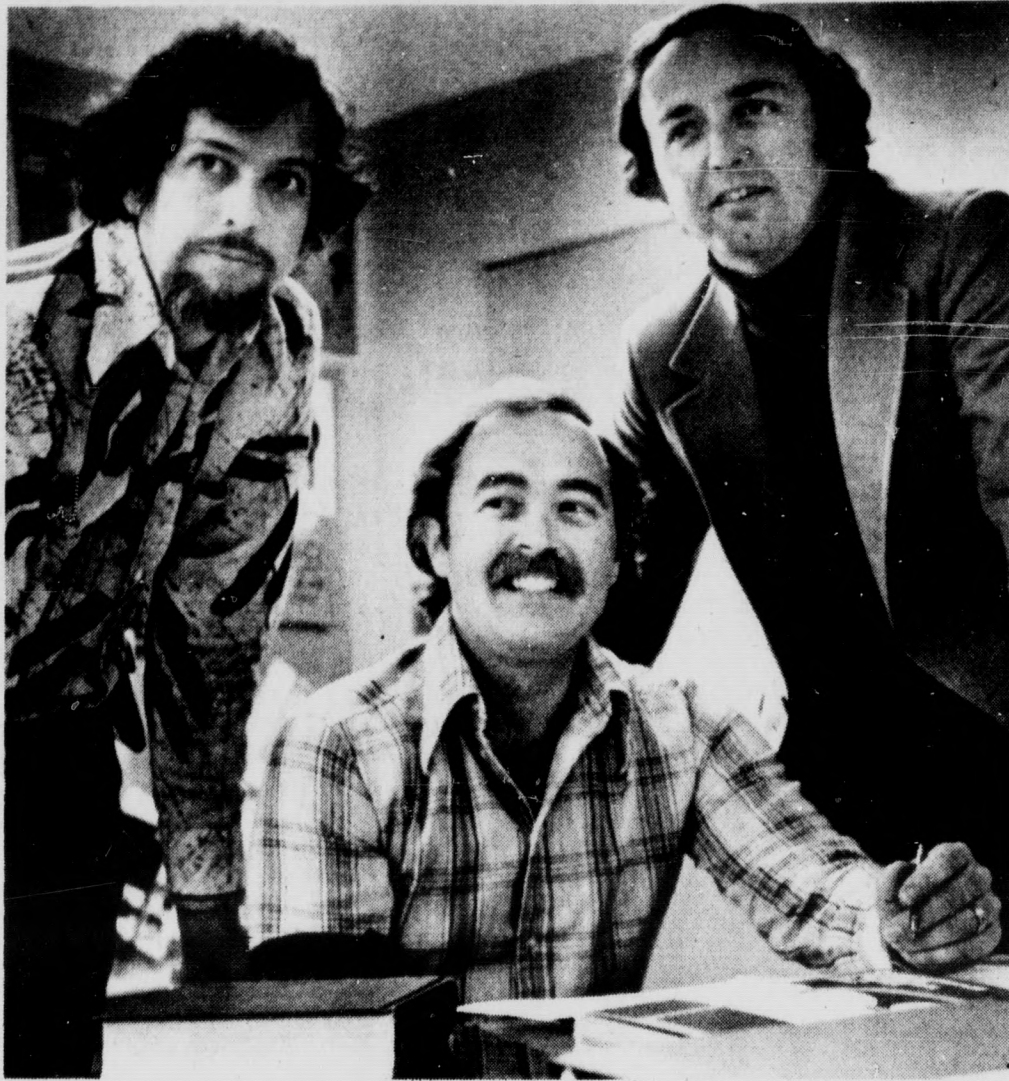

The same type of two-year programs have been in effect at American High School in Fremont, College Park in Pleasant Hill and Petaluma High School.

Classes will be scheduled into a three-hour block each day with instruction divided between two hours in bio-medical science and one in bio-medical mathematics. Students in the program will not need to take other science or math classes.

The program is for the student who is eyeing a commitment to any one of the following fields: Community health services, mental health, social services, dental, diagnostic and laboratory services, dietetic and nutritional services, medical appliance technology, nursing, pharmaceutical services, rehabilitation and therapeutic services, vision, speech and hearing services.

Contrary to any pre-conceived notions, those participating will not automatically be the sons and daughters of professionals in the health field or top scholastic achievers.

"We're looking for the average kid, the one interested in health or a medical-related field," says Sensiba, a science teacher at Amador and largely responsible for getting BICP moving.

Idea for such a demanding program came from agriculture teacher Ray Morton's attendance at a seminar in 1975. As a result of Morton's report to the science department, they decided to incorporate the program into the curriculum starting in September.

Sensiba, Himmelberg and Linda Ellis spent a day last year viewing classes in person at American High School in Fremont.

The first major concern was funding. The Amador committee learned that federal funds were available and made a grant application last June. The two-year program requires $4,500 for texts and other instructional materials. The panel was notified in February it would receive a first-year grant of $1,900.

The committee has been working on course content and establishing criteria by which to select the 30 students, not all of whom will necessarily be from Amador Valley High School.

"We want to be sure the word gets out to all students in the district who might be interested," reminds Himmelberg, who is working on the crucial curriculum outline with Sensiba, Yandell and George Jacobson.

The program organizers intend on including a bio-medical practicum—whereby students will spend part of their time assisting with a health or medical field practitioner.

Asked about the length of the program (two years), Sensiba responds, "We were very concerned about attrition. But the only decrease in the number taking part at American High was due to moving out of the district."

Druggist fighting union

The union agent responds, "That wasn't the feeling last fall when the contract came around ... We're representing the people who were there last fall." Pickets have been at the store since the end of December.

Moffatt has asked Beasley for a written list of the "issues." The union man has refused because he doesn't want to give the druggist ammunition to "build up a case and use it against us."

"I told him we will meet with him anytime he wants," Beasley added.

Meanwhile, Moffatt has apparently no way to get the union off his back except to sign a contract which he says has a higher pay scale and more stringent working conditions than that signed by other independent druggists.

He has tried every government resource to try to solve his problem. A letter to the National Labor Relations Board brought back a discouraging response: No disputes involving small (under $500,000 a year gross sales) businesses are handled by NLRB or any other agency.

Congressman Pete Stark sympathized, "You are caught in one of those gray areas where a law that would be quite beneficial to you doesn't quite reach you."

Assemblyman Floyd Mori said, "Aside from litigation, it would seem that your only recourse would be to seek assistance at the federal level."

Meanwhile, Moffatt estimates the union has already spent $4,000 to keep their little picket line (of usually one man) in front of Drug City. The druggist is mournfully contemplating spending a similar sum for a lawsuit against the union.

Here's a hot one for you

PLEASANTON — That was a hot time Rich Reid had on his birthday last Saturday.

Reid works at the post office and employees had a cake for him at 8:30 a.m. that day. They thought they'd be funny and install 31 candles on the cake, candles that don't go out, the kind you buy at a novelty store.

It was frustrating for Reid. He huffed and puffed, the candles kept burning, the smoke mounted up, and before you knew it, alarms started going off.

Postal clerks were running all over trying to figure out what all the commotion was about. Finally they figured that the smoke rising from the never-to-be-extinguished candles had set off the smoke alarm.

A few postal clerks grabbed the candles and threw them into the sink for dousing. The flames were appropriate because the clerks phoned a radio station at 4:20 a.m. and requested a birthday song for Reid: "Light my Fire."

Meanwhile, Congress might consider altering the postal department's slogan a bit, so it reads, "Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet, nor cold, nor fire shall stay these couriers from their appointed birthday anniversaries."

Pleasanton man in rape case

LIVERMORE — A Pleasanton man charged with attempting to molest a 16-year-old Granada High School student as she walked home from school Monday will face an April 6 preliminary hearing in municipal court here.

Patrick Hall, 24, 433 St. Mary's St., was formally charged with attempted rape. Police reports said the victim was asked by a man in a car if he could buy a lock of her hair for $30. When she refused, the man allegedly attempted to pull her inside the car while threatening to molest her.

Judge overturns decision

In a trial that ended Feb. 1, the jury supported August's charges that he was demoted for publicly criticizing his superiors.

August had asked for $50,000 in damages, but was awarded $25,000.

But Hudak asked Judge Sherwin to overturn the verdict on the grounds that the jury was not properly instructed before it began deliberations.

Hudak also claimed that evidence in several areas of the trial was insufficient.

VCSD endorses old pipeline

DUBLIN — The 22-mile Boehmer Summit sewerline won approval from Valley Community Services District Directors last night on a lopsided 4-1 vote.

In the same package, they also selected wastewater reuse alternative OIB providing for nominal reuse export over the summit with connection to the East Bay Dischargers Authority interceptor.

Additionally, they chose wastewater reuse alternative E for phase 2, partial nominal reuse (partial mineralization of water supply with highest export).

Livermore project boss set

LIVERMORE — A project coordinator for construction of the $1.5 million First Street overpass was selected Friday, the same day for start of bidding process on the first phase of the project.

Jack Becker, 51, of Fremont, was selected to coordinate the program which would swerve First Street at Maple Street, onto the railroad right of way, past but not connecting with School Street, then curving up an overhead ramp which swerves back down to the present First Street near Scott Street.

A licensed, registered civil engineer, Becker has been involved in numerous Bay Area projects. He most recently worked with a development company involved in the design and marketing of wastewater treatment equipment, according to Public Works Director Dan Lee.

"He'll be an asset to this office," said Lee. Eight people applied for the position which will pay Becker $1,700 a month for the duration of the project — expected to be one year to 18 months long. His salary will be paid by the Economic Development Administration grant recently authorized under the Public Works Employment Act of 1976.

The project, expected to supply 386 people with jobs, went into the bidding process Friday. Bids for the overpass construction are due back to city hall 4 p.m., April 14. City Council contract awarding is expected April 18.

A second phase will involve construction of approaches to the overpass.

Give me shelter

Workmen put the finishing touches on one of six AC Transit bus stops used for BART express connections recently installed in the Valley. Ranging in price from $1,636 to $2,293 depending on size, the enclosed stops offer protection from the elements for BART - bus passengers. Seven more such enclosures are proposed for the Valley, including three in Dublin, two in San Ramon, one in Sunol and another in Livermore. Those already installed are at the following locations: Murrieta at Stanley (two — one inbound, one outbound), Murrieta at Holmes, and East Avenue at Sandia, all in Livermore; and at Neal at First, and Hopyard and Las Positas in Pleasanton.

New Town and other issues at forum

Three of the Valley's women politicians will lead a forum on the controversial general plan amendment tonight.

Livermore Mayor Helen Tirsell, Pleasanton City Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire, and Valley Community Services District Director Lila Euler will address the American Association of University Women's "Current Issues and Your Future" forum at 7 p.m. Tuesday, in the multipurpose room of Fairlands School, 4151 Las Positas Blvd., Pleasanton.

AAUW Legislation Chairwoman Lee Denlinger will moderate the program.

Mayor Tirsell, who unsuccessfully argued before the county planning commission for the city's favorite general plan amendment, will discuss the Environmental Impact Report and Harlan Geldermann's proposed "New Town" for the Las Positas Valley.

LeClaire, a city councilwoman for three years and former vice-mayor, will speak to the general plan amendment and its impact on Pleasanton.

Former VCS Board President Euler will consider the plan's effect on the Valley's unincorporated areas, particularly the non-city of Dublin.

County planning commissioners last month approved the first major general plan amendment for the Valley in the past 10 years.

But they sparked certain controversy by recommending development of Geldermann's "New Town," along with growth in Pleasanton, Livermore, and Dublin.

County supervisors will hold public hearings on the amendment next month before adopting the final plan.

Named to GOP post

Steven Oldfield of Pleasanton, second vice president of the Tri-Valley Republican Assembly, was elected Regional Area Director of the Alameda County Republican Assembly recently.

He was elected to the position by the Alameda County Coordinating Committee of the Republican Assembly. The new job includes coordinating activities between the Republican Assemblies of Southern Alameda County and the County Central Assembly.

Wilma Holbrook of Livermore was selected to represent Alameda County at the California State Assembly Convention in Santa Barbara April 15-17. She will be addressed by potential gubernatorial candidates as well as other prominent state and national republicans.

Elmond Holbrook was appointed Parliamentarian of the Alameda County Republican Assembly.

The Tri-Valley Republican Assembly is the largest politically oriented group in the Valley with a current membership in excess of 100. Its goals include furthering an understanding of the purposes of the Republican Party in the Valley.

The Assembly group recently elected Betty Pillow, Mike Burger, Pat Mahoney, Steve Oldfield, Wilma Holbrook, and Elmond Holbrook to attend the ACCRA Convention.

Farmers confront the tax man in April

LIVERMORE — The touchy question of taxes comes up again April 12 when local farmers meet with someone from the county tax assessor's office at the Farm Bureau, 638 Enos Way.

Augie Hagemann and three other local farmers will compose a panel to direct questions and discussion to the assessor. Supervisor Valerie Raymond will moderate the discussion. A question-and-answer session will close the program.

Designed especially for Farm Bureau members, the meeting begins at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, April 12.

Pleasanton vintner gets post

Rick Casqueiro of Villa Armando Winery, Pleasanton, was elected president of the Alameda County Wine Growers Association at a dinner meeting March 17.

Other officers chosen were Henry Rosignani, Stony Ridge Winery, Pleasanton, vice-president; Larry DiPietro, Wente Brothers, Livermore, treasurer; and Robert Broman, Concannon Vineyard, Livermore, secretary.

The association paid special tribute to Elbert Kirkman of Wente Brothers, who had served as treasurer for more than a decade.

Tax-Deferred Retirement Plans

Individual Retirement Account. The IRA Plan is for individuals not covered by any other retirement or profit-sharing plan. If you qualify, you can deposit 15% of your annual salary (up to $1,500) in an interest-earning Franklin account.

Tax is deferred on the amount deducted for deposit and also on the interest your deposits earn.

Keogh Plan (HR-10)

The Keogh Plan permits self-employed persons to deposit 15% of their taxable income (up to $7,500) into their own Franklin retirement accounts.

Tax is deferred on the amount deducted and on the interest earned by the fund until such time the individuals retire — at which point, their tax rates are usually lower. Tax on up to $2,500 of such a deduction may be deferred on your State of California return.

Ben said, "There are three faithful Friends — an old Wife, an old Dog, and ready Money."

IT TOOK TEN YEARS TO DEVELOP A "TOTAL SYSTEM" THAT DELIVERS REAL TASTE IN A LOW 'TAR' CIGARETTE.

A low 'tar' cigarette is a complex system of interacting parts.

The tobacco. The filter. And even the paper.

Decade is the first low 'tar' in which all the parts have been arranged in perfect balance with each other. This is the Decade "Total System." And this is why Decade is the first low 'tar' with a taste worth smoking.

The Tobacco. "Flavor Packing" plus fifteen tobaccos boost taste.

We've developed a system called "Flavor Packing" that allows us to concentrate a special patented tobacco flavorant in each Decade cigarette.

This is in addition to our special taste blend of fifteen fine tobaccos, including exotic Turkish, full bodied Burley, and Bright, a tobacco known for its smoothness.

The Filter.
Unique "Taste Channel" gives first puff impact.

The Decade filter is a combination of modern laser technology, plus our own exclusive research design. Simply, we've created a channel within the filter to give you that first puff impact you've come to expect from only the higher 'tar' cigarettes. Which means you get taste from first puff to last.

The Paper. High porosity paper controls burn rate.

For Decade we use only high porosity cigarette paper. Ordinary paper inhibits the burn rate, which can diminish the taste and create the need to pull harder when you drag.

With Decade's high porosity paper however, you get an efficient burn rate that delivers optimum taste with a minimum of 'tar.'

The result.
A completely new kind of low 'tar' cigarette.

So try a pack of Decade for yourself. Regular or Menthol. And after one taste we think you'll agree that our last 10 years were well worth the effort.

Regular and Menthol.

MORE ABOUT DREAMS

If you wish to dream more dreams, do not drink fluids for two hours before bedtime. Non-smokers also have more dreams than smokers. These facts were found in studies at two leading universities.

Stanford University studies indicate that those who dream in color are persons who are highly sensitive to life, who enjoy life, and who, among women, are highly intuitive.

Young children dream twice as much as adults, and nighttime dreams, in everyone, are much more imaginative and far-out than daytime dreams. Only one dream in four, according to studies made on thousands of college students, is a good dream. It is normal to have nightmares. However, continual nightmares may signal deep emotional conflicts.

The dreams of men and women differ in content. Adult women dream more of the indoors, in surroundings familiar to the dreamer. Men's dreams are more adventurous with much violence, with fistfights and brawls in abundance. But highschool girls dream more violence than boys that age.

One dream in every three takes place in a house, the most common dream setting. A whole house may symbolize the dreamer to himself, or herself. If the roof is off, the dreamer may feel like "raising the roof." If the chimney is down, he may wish to "blow his stack." If the house is a castle, and the dreamer a man, he may feel a "man's home is his castle."

If one dreams of going up in an escalator or elevator, it might mean the dreamer feels he's getting up in the world. If dreaming of going down it could mean he feels down and out.

Dreams of a circus indicate the dreamer may think of himself as a clown, smiling, but sad. Or he may feel like a freak in a sideshow, separate and different from others. Dreams of animals in cages might reveal the dreamer's disapproval of his own actions. He feels he is a wild animal that should be caged.

When a person dreams of driving a vehicle he may be expressing a wish to be in control of his life. Or he may be picturing himself as independent, and having control over his own destiny.

Those who dream of cannibals, may fear being "eaten alive," of being gobbled up emotionally by others. If the dreamer is cast as a cannibal, he or she might wish to eat up the opposition, or to dominate someone they love: "I could eat you up."

A corpse in a dream may show the death of love, hope or desire is on the dreamer's mind. If the dreamer casts himself as a corpse, he may feel he should be punished for his thoughts and deeds, or that death might be a way out of his problems. If another person is cast as a corpse, the dreamer may wish for or fear the removal of that person, or his love, from the dreamer's life.

Dreamers who appear as bigamists usually wish for more than one mate, or love more than one person. If someone else is the bigamist in the dream, the dreamer feels cheated, or feels he or she isn't getting enough attention.

Teachers who appear in dreams seem to indicate a feeling of someone testing or grading the dreamer's behavior or thoughts. A vampire symbolizes someone the dreamer feels is draining him emotionally. Remember, stay thirsty for bigger and better dreams, only one in four is a good dream.

Funky junk

Lois Bouscal has her eyes on a pert Betsy Ross perfume decanter, discovered among items of every description to be sold at a flea market April 17 co-sponsored by the Livermore Avon Collectors and Tri-Valley Datsun. For just $4 sellers can participate in the sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the auto dealership at Interstate 580 and Portola Avenue. Admission to the public is free, and plans are in the offing for live music and refreshments, too. The Avon Collectors will reserve a space for you, or accept donations of junk at 443-9502, 447-5015 or 455-6997. Proceeds will finance a trip to the national Avon Collectors convention this summer for local members.

Cancer Crusade chairman Dolly Dahlin, Lynne Gross, Mary Ann Chittick and Karren Pentony will coordinate the efforts of 1,000 volunteers in the valley.

There's a rally in the Valley

Cancer Crusade mobilizes here

"Fight cancer one door at a time," is the slogan of the 1977 Cancer Crusade, and more than a thousand volunteers are expected to rally in the valley. Dolly Dahlin, Lynne Gross, Mary Ann Chittick and Karren Pentony will serve as city chairmen for the door-to-door campaign April 27 through May 7.

A free kick-off luncheon at the Shannon Community Center in Dublin is planned April 12 for volunteers. The luncheon, which opens at 11:30 a.m., will be followed by a panel presentation by cancer patients. Babysitting will be provided, but moms should pack a lunch for children.

Persons wishing to help

Smoking clinics

The American Cancer Society is hosting smoking clinics at the following location: Walt Disney Elementary School faculty room in San Ramon on Tuesday, March 29 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Located at 3250 Pine Valley Road, the clinic will continue April 5, 12, 14, 19 and 26; May 3, 10. Call 934-7640 for details.

The local unit of the American Cancer Society provides a number of valuable community services. Almost 22 cents of every dollar donated to ACS supports patient and community services.

The Free Wheelers, under the direction of Thelma Frank, provide free transportation to local cancer patients who must travel to treatment centers in the Bay Area. The Free Wheelers will also provide bandages, and loan hospital beds, wheel chairs and walkers.

Persons with valid driver's license and insurance may arrange to help the Free Wheelers by calling Mrs. Frink a 443-3676.

The Reach to Recovery program aids women who have had mastectomies by providing a personal visit from a volunteer who has also had the same operation. Helpful booklets on how to cope with the special problems involved in breast surgery are provided. To request a home visit, call 357-1961.

Betty Rotsten conducts clinics to help smokers break their habit. She may be reached at 447-2440 (day). Other ACS programs in the valley include speech classes for laryngectomy patients, and visitation for ostomy patients.

Community-wide volunteer needs

The Valley Volunteer Bureau is a clearinghouse for the valley community where human resources and needs are matched. The bureau maintains an up-to-date inventory of types of volunteers needed. To find out how you can help, call the bureau at 462-3570 or stop by its office at the YMCA building, 287 Rose Ave., Pleasanton. Office hours are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

AMONG CURRENT NEEDS

- Pleasanton person(s) to help valley cancer society drive chairman coordinate campaign now through early May.
- Arts and crafts volunteers for local drug rehabilitation program.
- Volunteers to provide one-to-one assistance to mentally ill patients returning to live in the community. Training provided by mental health advocate program.
- Person to demonstrate arts and crafts every third Tuesday of the month to students in a literacy program for the foreign-born.
- Livermore volunteers needed in library outreach program to rest homes in the area.

CowBelles host annual 'cook-off'

The annual beef cook-off in Alameda County, sponsored by the American National CowBelles, will be held April 23. CowBelles are an auxiliary group of the National Cattlemen's Association, and have an on-going program of consumer education in the selection and preparation of thrifty beef cuts.

The contest is open to persons 21 years of age and over, who have had no paid professional status as home economist, cooking teacher, chef or nutritionist.

Recipes must be for a beef dish using chuck, round, rump or fresh brisket in any form. The dish must contain a minimum of two pounds of beef, and not more than five pounds. The meat must be exclusively beef. Total cooking time may not exceed four hours.

Contestants will be responsible for furnishing all ingredients, garnishes and cooking utensils; electric ranges will be provided at the cook-off. Dishes will be judged on the basis of taste, appearance and originality. A first, second and third prize of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded.

Any eligible resident of Alameda County who wishes to enter may send a recipe to Pat Lund, P.O. Box 458, Pleasanton Calif. 94566 by April 6. Winners will be notified by April 13.

Looking for Nastase

Just ask

The tipoff:

Start being aware of Frank Tanana, a slick-throwing southpaw for the California Angels who might be the most under-publicized star in the majors. Especially when you consider he's a bona fide colorful flake with impressive credentials — he was 19-10 with an ERA of 2.44 on a lowly team that can now make a serious run for the American League title.

Q. Could you please tell me where I could write to Ilie Nastase? I'd love to know more about the matches he has played, his personal life and also where he lives. — Tracy Hankins, Oakland, Calif.

Since tennis players are such peripatetic souls, the only real way to reach Nastase would be to write him at the Association of Tennis Professionals, World Trade Center, P.O. Box 58144, Dallas, Tex. 75207. Nastase, who is now 30, ostensibly still lives in Bucharest, Rumania, but actually makes his home south of Paris on his wife's family estate. Nastase has been among the world's best for a decade, reached his peak winning at Forest Hills in '72 but also won four Grand Prix Masters titles in five years.

Q. Is Bill Bradley going into politics after he leaves the New York Knicks following this season? — R.L., Elizabeth, N.J.

Years ago, Dollar Bill, as he is known to his teammates, envisioned a political career for himself. It still may be in his future, but not immediately. I think he'll take six months to a year to collect himself and see what direction he's like his life to follow. The classy Princeton grad has had a truly distinguished tenure in pro basketball.

Q. Where was O.J. Simpson born? What do the initials in his name stand for? — P.B., Olean, N.Y.

Orenthal James Simpson was born in San Francisco almost 30 years ago (he'll reach that milestone July 9) and grew up there in the Potrero Hill district, attending Galileo High School and City College of San Francisco before bursting into national prominence at USC and a sensational pro career. He now makes his home in Los Angeles. He said recently he'd only play a couple more years with the Buffalo Bills.

Q. What is the highest priced ticket in baseball and football these days? — M.N., Cincinnati, O.

A recent study of major professional teams in those sports showed that the Washington Redskins command the highest tariff in the National Football League, at $20. Surprisingly the highest priced ticket in baseball is now sold by the San Francisco Giants, at $7.10.

Q. What the hell are the Oakland Raiders going to do with the three all-pros coming off the injured list next year? — Donald MacLeod, Oakland, Calif.

You must be looking at a different list than mine. The three key veterans who missed all of last season with injuries were fullback Marv Hubbard, defensive tackle Art Thomas, defensive end Horace Jones. None of them is or was an all-pro, although they've contributed to the Raider dynasty. I think Hubbard will be in a different uniform this year. Thomas at 30 and Jones at 28 should still be valuable to the Super Bowl champs and give Coach John Madden more flexibility with his defense. He won't have to stay in that Orange, or three-man defensive line, alignment all the time.

Q. When did instant replay first get used in sports telecasts? I seem to recall seeing it in football. — J.M., Aberdeen, Wash.

Instant replay as we know it now, involving a disc for a recording surface developed by Ampex, came into widespread use exactly a decade ago. It was first used on an ABC telecast of a skiing event in Vail, Colo. But its main impact came earlier in football when Tony Verna, a director at CBS, recognized the value of recapturing a key play and simply rewound tape to start the instant replay revolution.

Parting shot:

If any top level business executive ran a business the inconsistent way Bowie Kuhn runs baseball, he'd have been canned long before his original contract ran out.

Got a tough question about sports and the people who play them? All you got to do is ask Murray Olderman. Write him in care of the Times, P.O. Box 607, Pleasanton, Calif. 94566. The most interesting questions will be answered in this column. Olderman regrets he cannot write personal responses to all the questions.

SF signs Thomas

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Joe Thomas, fired last January as general manager of the Baltimore Colts, has signed a six-year contract with the San Francisco 49ers in the same capacity. The Associated Press learned Monday.

Contract terms could not be ascertained.

Thomas is generally credited with being the major force in the building of the Minnesota Vikings, Miami Dolphins and Colts into National Football League powers.

But at the start of the 1976 season, in a showdown with Colts owner Robert Irsay, Thomas came out second-best in a dispute over whether Coach Ted Marchibroda would be retained.

Thomas, who joined the Colts in 1972, wanted him out. Irsay, the Colts' players and the team's assistant coaching staff lined up behind Marchibroda. After the season, Thomas was gone.

It was Thomas who played a major role in the decisions that resulted in the drafting of quarterback Bert Jones, wide receiver Roger Carr and other players.

Marquette holds on for title

ATLANTA — The Marquette Warriors blew a 12-point halftime lead, then scrambled like street fighters in the closing two minutes to give retiring Coach Al McGuire his first NCAA basketball championship with a 67-59 victory over North Carolina Monday night.

Marquette controlled that tip and Toone missed a layup, starting a wild scramble for possession that had bodies falling all over the floor before a foul finally was called. That sent Marquette's Jim Boylan to the line.

Boylan calmly sank both shots, then Bo Ellis hit four in a row and the victory was secure with a 59-53 lead with 62 seconds left.

McGuire, ending a 20-year coaching career with his 404th victory, began to weep on his bench with six seconds left in the game as Gary Rosenberger hit the final two free throws. When the buzzer sounded, he remained seated on the bench, his head slightly bowed and tears streaming down his face.

The victory left Marquette with a 25-7 record, most defeats ever for a national college basketball champion. It removed the 1958 Kentucky team, which had gone 23-6, from the record books with that distinction.

And ironically, McGuire — who started his career in North Carolina at tiny Belmont Abbey College — recorded his last three victories over North Carolina teams.

The Warriors defeated Wake Forest in the Midwest Regional finals nine days ago and stopped North Carolina-Charlotte in Saturday's semifinals.

The Warriors broke a 47-47 tie with a little more than six minutes remaining on a pair of free throws by Butch Lee, a star last summer for the Puerto Rican Olympic team.

North Carolina never was able to catch up as the Warriors went to the free throw line repeatedly in the final two minutes, hitting 14 foul shots to preserve the triumph.

North Carolina appeared to be back in contention during a state of confusion with 1:45 left in the game.

Officials called a flagrant technical foul on Marquette's Bernard Toone, who also was fouled on the play. Toone missed his foul shot, and Olympian Walter Davis converted twice for the Tar Heels, cutting the lead to 53-51.

The confusion arose when some thought North Carolina should also have possession, but apparently it was a dead ball foul on Toone, forcing a jump ball at center court after the free throws.

McGuire had insisted throughout the tournament that the national title meant little to him personally, but obviously the emotion caught him in the closing seconds. As McGuire cried, his already-named successor, Hank Raymonds, patted him on the back.

Earlier in the game, though, it appeared Marquette again might be denied a national crown when North Carolina began a comeback from a 39-27 halftime deficit.

Freshman Mike O'Koren hit his first four shots of the second half, two from deep in the corner, to trim the lead to four and moments later Walter Davis hit a 10-footer from the free throw lane to tie the game at 41-41 after only 4:02 had elapsed.

Boylan and Davis swapped baskets before Tom Zaliagiris put North Carolina ahead 45-43 on a layup with 13:49 remaining.

That was Carolina's first lead since early in the opening half.

After Toone tied it with a 15-foot jump shot, Carolina Coach Dean Smith ordered his team into its four-corner offense with 12:40 left.

McGuire looked like a choir director as he instructed his team from midcourt to come out on defense, then fall back, and repeat the process. North Carolina missed a layup three minutes later and Marquette went into a delay of its own before Boylan broke clear for a layup.

More than two minutes later, Davis tied it with free throws, but then Lee put his club ahead to stay at 49-47 on his foul shots.

Lee led the Warriors with 19 points and Ellis and Boylan each added 14.

Davis was the game's leading scorer, getting 20 for North Carolina, which finished its season at 28-5.

O'Koren, who had 31 points in a semifinal victory, added 14 for the Tar Heels.

Nevada-Las Vegas won consolation honors with a 106-94 victory over North Carolina - Charlotte.

Eddie Owens scored 34 points and Reggie Theus 24 as the Runnin' Rebels set a five-game tournament record with 505 points.

Cornbread Maxwell and freshman Chad Kinch each had 30 points for North Carolina - Charlotte. — by Associated Press

Grizzlies topple Foothill

California High School's golf team pulled off an upset in East Bay Athletic League competition yesterday, topping Foothill, 221-223 at San Ramon Country Club.

The victory gave the Grizzlies a 1-3 mark in EBAL action and the Falcons dropped to a 2-1 record.

Jay Langley led the winners with a 42 and Craig Mattoch added a 43. Ron Longoria of California added a 44.

Dan Juchau topped Foothill with a 45. Four players tied at 46: John Briggs and Jon Zender of Foothill and Dennis Johnson and Jim Untiedt of California.

John Gielow and John Konecny of Foothill followed with 49s.

In other EBAL action yesterday Amador Valley dumped Dublin 227-244 and unbeaten Monte Vista topped host Livermore 203-211.

Mark Ludwig led Amador Valley with a 44 and Frank Moona added a 45. Rick Burns, Tim Burns and Mitch Fleener each had 46s for the winners.

Amador Valley is now 2-1 in EBAL action. Livermore is 1-2 and Monte Vista 3-0.

Amador Valley plays Livermore in a make-up match today.

Oakland due for long season?

(This is the first of two articles on prospects for the Oakland A's and San Francisco Giants, based on their performances to date at their spring training headquarters in Mesa and Phoenix, Arizona.)

They call them "the third expansion team" and further belittle the Oakland A's chances in the American League-West this season by saying owner Charlie O. Finley is trading away or selling the remnants of what used to be a championship team.

After a weekend peek, what "they" are saying appears true, true, TRUE! Take all the teams training in the Mesa - Phoenix - Scottsdale area, stir well in a blender and you'll come up with ONE decent contending team.

For the record, the A's are again at Mesa, the Giants in Phoenix, the Chicago Cubs in Scottsdale (in the last year of a 10-year lease the Cubs are demanding improvements on the ballpark), Milwaukee in Sun City and Seattle's Mariners in Tempe.

The Mariners are one of two new franchises in the American League and not necessarily the best baseball team in Tempe. Not when you consider that Tempe is the home of Arizona State University.

With the trade of Claudell Washington Saturday to the Texas Rangers for lefty Jim Umberger and a rookie second baseman, the A's are down to "remnants" Bill North and Vida Blue.

And Vida has his bag packed just in case. Actually, the A's have one of the better starting rotations in the American League IF Doc Medich and the 24-year-old Umberger pitch back to previous seasons.

Blue, of course, is the stopper. Mike Torrez and young Paul Mitchell round out the starting rotation.

The bullpen is a disaster area, aside from 37-year-old Dave Giusti. The candidates are Craig Mitchell, Stan Bahnsen and Bob Lacey.

In Saturday's game at Sun City, Torrez pitched solid ball through five innings (aside from Don Money's three-run shot to left), Craig Mitchell staggered through two and Giusti weathered some wicked raps in the final two.

"Captain Sal" Bando, now stationed at third for Milwaukee, exited in the seventh when Manny Sanguillen's stinging bouncer cracked him in the face.

You could detect the fiendish looks on the faces of the A's holdovers. Captain Sal won't be missed.

In his stead is youngster Wayne Gross, an improvement glove and average-wise but a little short on power. If Gross falters, there are such household names as Ed Crosby and Rich McKinney waiting.

Rob Picciolo at shortstop may be the one honest-to-goodness prospect on the Mesa spring campus. Not nearly as quick or as good a hitter as the departed Campy Campaneris, Picciolo is a fine fielder and, best of all, probably won't be hitting Charlie O. for a five year/million dollar contract for the time being.

Booters meet

The Pleasanton Girls' Soccer Association will hold a general meeting at Amador Park Recreation Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The purpose of this meeting is for the acceptance of the by-laws as approved by the Board of Directors and for the presentation of the slate of officers by the nominating committee. Nominations may be made from the floor at this meeting.

For further information call Dora Spence at 846-7107.

Apprentice jockey Steve Cauten, 16, rode in 189 races in January and had 63 winners. At that rate he would ride a record 756 winners in 1977. Four of his January wins came in two Sundays of racing in California.

When Phil Garner was drop-kicked into the National League, the second base job was thrown wide open.

Larry Lintz, a designated runner in past seasons, got back in the race with a 400-foot blast at Sun City Saturday. At last glance, Lintz was still slapping hands with anybody who would hold their hand out.

There's also two Mikes, a Rodney Scott (in the A's-Rangers deal) and Crosby vying for Jack McKeon's attention.

Dick Allen, who found God somewhere between left field in Philly, the race track and Mesa, is implanted at first. Should ex-Richie's attention wander, Cub expatriate Jerry Tabb (who??) is available. Tabb came over in the Grand Central Station trade between the A's, Pirates and Cubs.

That deal also brought Mitch Page, a promising portside swatter who'll play left field (but not like Joe Rudi used to). North will be in center wondering how Rudi and Reggie have all the luck and possibly Jim Tyrone, a retread, in right. There's also rookie Dennis Walling, ex-Pirate hopeful Tony Armas, speedster Don Hopkins and comebacking Billy Conigliaro.

Behind the plate is Sanguillen, error-prone Tim Hosley and a quick phone call to San Jose ... the A's triple A farm club this year.

Tomorrow, the Giants and the Italian Stallions. — by Al Fischer

Cal drops

'Stangs rated 6th

Monte Vista, unranked last week, climbed to the sixth spot in this week's East Bay Prep Writers' poll as the result of two East Bay Athletic League victories last week.

California, which was rated second last week, lost to Granada in the EBAL opener last Tuesday and fell to 12th place. San Ramon (11) and San Ramon (10th tie) and Amador Valley, 14th, were the other EBAL schools in the top 20. Arroyo remained in first place, getting three of the six first-place votes. Clayton Valley, rated seventh, got two first-place votes and San Leandro (10th tie) received the other.

Mt. Diablo was ranked second, Alacanes third, Pittsburg fourth and Marina fifth.

Amador Valley was ranked 10th last week but fell after splitting a pair of EBAL contests.

In today's EBAL action Monte Vista will attempt to move its league mark to 3-0 against California on the Mustang diamond.

49er sale approved

PHOENIX — The National Football League approved the sale of the San Francisco 49ers to Edward J. DeBartolo Jr., Monday.

The sale of the team by the widows of Anthony and Victor Morabito has yet to be completed, the league said. No terms were announced.

DeBartolo, 30, is the executive vice president of his father's shopping center development corporation which, among other things, owns Thistledown Race Track in Cleveland and motels and industrial parks. The firm has headquarters in Youngstown, Ohio.

The team left control of the Morabito family after 31 years of operation which started with the founding of the All-American Conference in 1946.

A group including Franklin Mieuli, president of pro basketball's Golden State Warriors and a minority stockholder of the 49ers, and former San Francisco mayor Joseph Alioto came close to buying the team last year. A group including one-time New York Giants Coach Allie Sherman also showed interest in gaining control of the team.

Not yet determined is what role Joe Thomas, former general manager of the Minnesota Vikings, Miami Dolphins and Baltimore Colts, will take, if any, with the new 49ers management. Head Coach Monte Clark has a contract which gives him authority in matters such as player trades and draft selections.

Tigers seek Blue

TAMPA, Fla. — The Texas Rangers, desperate for left-handed pitchers, may get Vida Blue from the Oakland A's if a little matter of $1.5 million can be settled.

The amount is the difference between what Oakland owner Charles Finley wants for his southpaw and what Rangers owner Brad Corbett is willing to pay.

"It is an exciting prospect," Rangers General Manager Dan O'Brien said, "but I know Charlie's talking to a lot of other teams about Blue, too."

Corbett said, "Charlie wants two or three million for Blue, but I think I can get him down to $1.5 million and some players."

"Another problem is that Charlie doesn't want to clear it with (Commissioner Bowie) Kuhn first and I do."

Kuhn delayed the Rangers' $400,000 purchase of the A's Paul Lindblad but finally approved the deal after a hearing.

Blue, 27, has a 110-67 lifetime record and a 2.79 career earned run average, including 27 shutouts.

"If we get Blue, we'll have the best pitching staff in baseball," Corbett said.

A's edge Cubs

MESA, Ariz. — The Oakland A's came from behind twice in extra innings and beat the Chicago Cubs 8-7 Monday on Jerry Tabb's two-out, two-run single in the 11th.

The Cubs tied the exhibition baseball game at 5-5 on back-to-back home runs by Larry Bittner and Randy Hundley in the ninth. They went ahead with a run in the 10th but the A's answered back with a run.

In the top of the 11th, the Cubs scored without benefit of a hit. A's relief pitcher Doug Bair walked Greg Gross with the bases loaded.

Rob Picciolo rapped a one-out single to open the bottom of the 11th. With one out, Larry Lintz singled for his fourth hit of the game and after Mitchell Page's groundout advanced the runners, Tabb delivered the game-winning hit to center field.

Page, the outfielder acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates two weeks ago, is hitting .463 with the A's and 10 of his 19 hits have been for extra bases. He had a single, triple and homer Monday.

The A's signed Earl Williams yesterday, who had just been released from the Detroit Tigers. Williams is a catcher.

Sunday the A's fell to Milwaukee 5-1. Oakland batters could get just four hits off the Brewer pitchers. Milwaukee belted eight hits of its own.

Local golfers qualify for final rounds

ALAMEDA — Bill Malley shot an even-par 72 Sunday to stay just three strokes off the pace in the Alameda Commuters Tournament at Alameda Municipal Golf Course.

Malley's 72, coupled with the 68 he scored Saturday, gave him a 36-hole total of 140.

Tom Costello of San Francisco and John Susko are tied for the lead with seven-under pars 137s.

The cutoff point was 154 and 81 golfers qualified for the final two rounds which will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Ned Bellinger of Pleasanton cared a 146 and Rod Velasquez of Livermore had a 150 to remain among the qualifiers.

Other top qualifiers were Hayward City champion Ashley Smith (144), Pat Chapman (146), Armando Claudio and Doug Talley (147) Mark Abfalter (148), Rod Souza and Mike Chapman (152) and Mike Rubio (153).

HR's do it

Giants top Mariners

TEMPE, Ariz. — Darrell Evans and Willie McCovey socked two-run homers to pace the San Francisco Giants to a 9-5 exhibition baseball victory over the Seattle Mariners Monday.

Ed Halicki pitched the first six innings for the Giants, struck out eight and received credit for the victory.

The homer for McCovey was his first of the spring. He later singled in another run as the Giants won their fourth straight exhibition and sixth of the last seven.

his hot hitting for expansion Seattle, cracking a home run and a double in four trips to the plate.

The Giants have won six of their last seven games.

Sunday San Francisco rallied from an 8-1 deficit to take a 12-9 victory over the San Diego Padres.

The Giants scored nine times in the sixth inning to take a 9-8 lead, watched San Diego tie it in the seventh then scored three more times in the eighth and ninth innings to take the win.

Elliott continued his amazing hitting with four hits, four runs and four RBI's for the Giants. Jack Clark added three RBI's, one hit and one run to the San Francisco attack. Terry Whitfield had three hits and scored twice for the winners.

McRae stars

Glads win relays

SANTA BARBARA — Chabot College, led by the brilliant Mike McRae, took first place honors in the 39-school Santa Barbara Relays here Saturday afternoon.

The Gladiators scored 38 points to top Golden Gate Conference rival San Mateo by two points.

McRae won the long jump with a leap of 24-2½ and took second in the triple jump with a 50-8½ effort. He also ran a leg on the Chabot shuttle hurdle relay team. That team included Greg Veatch, Larry Jackson and Mike Martin. They covered 480 yards in 1:08 for the victory.

Jackson took third in the triple jump with a 48-9 leap.

Mark Robinson finished second in the shot put with a 50-3½ effort. The two-mile relay team of Rich Judy, Dave Emery, Mark Molina and Tom Smith also finished second, recording a 7:51.4.

Tom Smith ran a 9:13.5 in the open two-mile for third and Mike Smith clocked 9:15.2 for fifth place.

Dickey to have surgery

OAKLAND (AP) — Derrek Dickey, reserve forward for the Golden State Warriors, will undergo surgery Thursday for removal of bone chips from an ankle, the National Basketball Association team announced Monday.

Dickey will miss the rest of the regular season and will be unavailable for the playoffs. He missed two months of play because of an injury earlier this season.

As a special service to our customers, Security National Bank has made a volume purchase of the Emhart Kwikset 911 Smoke and Fire Alarm.

The Emhart 911 meets National Fire Protection Association standards and is approved by the Alameda and Contra Costa fire districts as well as the California State Fire Marshall.

Powered by a long-life battery, the solid-state circuitry of the Emhart 911 senses lethal smoke and fumes and emits a piercing "beep, beep" capable of arousing you from a sound sleep. This early warning might avert a tragedy.

The self-contained Emhart 911 is easy to install because no wiring is required. If the battery wears down, the alarm will beep for several days, signaling you to replace it.

We are offering the Emhart 911 smoke alarm to customers with qualifying deposits at a special price, below wholesale cost.

TERMS

Open a savings account for $5,000 or more, or add at least $5,000 to your existing account, and purchase the alarm for $9.95.

Dr. Joyce Brothers

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I'm very confused about how to discipline my children, perhaps because I've heard and read so much lately about child abuse. I think because I fear this so much I lean in the opposite direction. My mother-in-law feels I let my children get away with murder. My husband has a terrible temper but he keeps it under control at all times. He has told me he never wants any part of disciplining our youngsters. I want to do what's right for them, but I'm honestly not sure how to do it.

DEAR P.F.: It sounds to me as if you and your husband may be afraid of what you might do if you ever lost control of your temper. This is a potentially dangerous situation because a tight control over one's emotions can lead to a sudden devastating eruption, that can be injurious to parent and child.

Both you and your husband have to realize that it's all right to be angry with a child just as it's all right for a child to be angry with a parent. Parents and children should learn to accept and express a certain amount of anger, to talk out anger, rather than deny it or use physical means to enforce rules.

Parents can ease irritation by talking to a child even though the child may not be old enough to express his own rage verbally. By praising good behavior and rewarding the child, parents can save themselves a lot of worry about how to punish unacceptable behavior. Too often, parents forget about praise and rewards and concentrate only on the child's wrong behavior.

Children need discipline. The parent who refuses to discipline is not accepting his share of responsibility. Always make sure the punishment helps not hurts the child.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I'm beginning to wonder why my husband married me. Since the beginning of our marriage he's had one affair after another and he seems to think this is normal. He says it helps our marriage and guarantees that it will endure. According to him none of his affairs lasts more than a few nights, but this really doesn't make much difference to me. I believe it's wrong and no matter how much he tells me of his love, I can't live with or accept his behavior. — A.I.

DEAR A.I.: I don't believe you should have to. It sounds as if your husband feels so inadequate that he needs constant reassurance. When a person has consistent casual relations that he considers unimportant and meaningless, hostility and excessive narcissism are usually involved. His behavior indicates a problem and can hardly be considered normal. The need for repeated novelty is immature and will ultimately be damaging to your husband as well as disastrous for your marriage.

Some people feel that extramarital sex helps them grow as individuals and makes them more sensitive to human needs and to their marriage partners. This can be true under certain circumstances, but the behavior you describe is not going to lead to personal growth. It sounds as if he's using sex as an escape for personal problems that he's unwilling or unable to face. He's not going to mature emotionally or achieve real happiness until he comes to grips with these problems, which, I suspect, are related to incidents in his early life. The sexually promiscuous male is often unconsciously looking for his mother. He probably has never been able to break the emotional dependency on her.

I suggest that he seek professional guidance. If he refuses, then you should seriously consider leaving him.

Dr. Lamb

Thin, but high cholesterol

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have just learned that I have a borderline high cholesterol level. The doctor said no salad oils, creamed vegetables, butter or cheese. No more than three eggs a week. I'm wondering just what I can eat to gain weight. I'm 5 feet 6 and weigh 114 pounds. So you see I am not overweight.

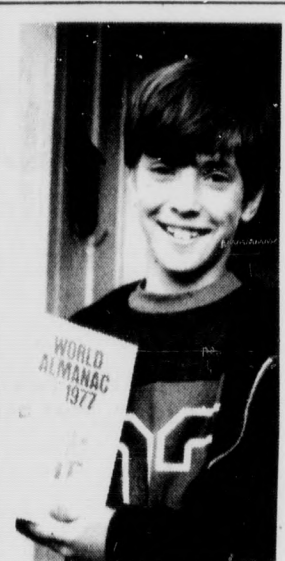

Can I eat creamed vegetables made with skim milk? Can you tell me what foods I can eat and which ones I should not eat other than those I have listed?

DEAR READER: A person can be thin and have a high cholesterol level as your case points out, but most people with high levels tend to be overweight. Regardless of that point the most important aspect of the diet is to NOT GAIN WEIGHT and to eliminate any excess fat that you have. I doubt that any of the diets to lower cholesterol have any useful effect unless the person also avoids or eliminates obesity.

The first of the recommendations of the InterSociety Commission on Heart Disease Resources sponsored by the government regarding diet is to eliminate or prevent obesity.

Yes, you can use a white sauce made with skimmed milk or by using dry skim milk powder.

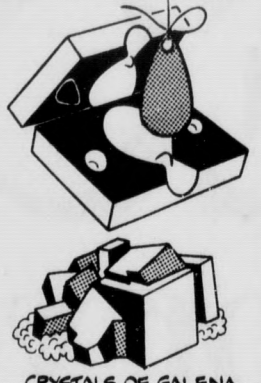

Mark Morgan, 8, of 440 Monti Circle, Pleasant Hill, submitted the question answered in today's "Johnny Wonder" column. He won a 1977 World Almanac.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

Q. "WHERE DOES LEAD COME FROM?"

MARK MORGAN, PLEASANT HILL, CA

A. MOST LEAD IS OBTAINED BY MINING AND SMELTING CRUSTALS OF LEAD ORE CALLED GALENA

CRYSTALS OF GALENA AS MINED

Lead is a soft metal used to make such things as electric storage battery plates, printing type, cable coverings and paint.

Most lead is found in an ore called galena. Galena forms silvery crystals, which are mined from the ground. After the lead ore has been mined, it is crushed and the lead-bearing particles are separated from unwanted rock.

Next, the lead material is roasted to drive off the sulfur, and the remainder is smelted in a big blast furnace to obtain the lead.

"As heavy as lead" is a common saying. Lead is heavier than iron or aluminum. The metal has a bluish-gray color, and is so soft that it can be scratched with a fingernail.

When the metal is freshly cut, it gleams silver-white. But it quickly darkens in the air.

Lead is often melted and poured into different shapes. Toy lead soldiers and fishing weights are made by pouring melted lead into molds.

For Tuesday, March 29, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If anything comes up early in the day where you can turn a profit, jump on it. It may not be available if you procrastinate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Work on projects that spur your enthusiasm today. Your inner self is trying to tell you that's where the action is.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A pleasant surprise is in store for you today. A favor you did willingly and forgot may be repaid on a far larger scale.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is a day when it pays to mix with the group. Something lucky could happen if you're where the crowd is.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) For best results, be very secretive if you're working on something big today. Confide in no one unless they're directly involved.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Seek out new interests today to buoy your hopes and excite your imagination. A good time to strike out on uncharted paths.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're a shade or two luckier than your competitors today, so think "win." The right attitude is necessary for victory.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Early in the day you're at your best in bargaining situations. If you have tough negotiating to do, put it on the agenda.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you volunteer your services and skills to those who need them, this could turn out to be a very profitable day for you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Accept any invitations to an event at which you could meet an important person. You could win an influential new ally.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even though you may have to put yourself out a bit to please your family today, it will be worth it. All will be appreciative.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You make a good impression today, so go where you can be seen. Those of the opposite sex are especially attracted to you.

South thought a long time about whether or not to use Blackwood. He had no aces and if his partner responded five hearts to show two aces there would be no slam and the partnership would be past the five-diamond stopping point. Finally, South decided that he could bail out at five notrump if North held just two aces, that there was no way to try for the slam except by Blackwood and that North was almost sure to have the three aces needed.

If North had only two aces South would bid five spades over North's five hearts whereupon North would bid five notrump and South would pass. But North did show three aces and South was in a sound diamond slam.

It wasn't a lay down, but South made it. He won the spade in dummy and led a heart. His king fell to West's ace. West led a second spade. South won in his own hand, ruffed a heart in dummy, led a diamond to his king, ruffed his last low heart with dummy's nine of trumps, cashed dummy's aces of trumps and clubs, ruffed a club, drew trumps and scored the slam.

Teacher bargaining on again for Amador

Amador Valley Joint High School District teacher negotiator Gary Poulos and assistant superintendent for personnel Carl Krause will reopen contract negotiations this afternoon as the April 14 strike deadline date looms on the horizon.

Dave Woolworth, president of the Amador district teacher unit, said Superintendent Bruce Newlin responded affirmatively to a teacher negotiations tender last Thursday. Today's session could be a forerunner of full negotiations involving both negotiating teams, if areas of movement are pinpointed and agreed upon this afternoon.

An article in Sunday's paper stating that the tender and acceptance by the administration originated with Tom Zach, president of the Pleasanton district teachers unit, was not correct.

All proceedings in the unsettled Pleasanton contract situation were completed Thursday night at a special school board meeting at Harvest Park School.

Pleasanton teachers, then, will complete the present school year without a signed contract with the district. The collective bargaining procedure for 1977-78 will commence in the next couple of weeks.

The Pleasanton school board will meet at 12 noon Friday to swear in new board members Nancy Hawtrey, Earnestine Schneider and Ronald Ott and elect officers for the coming year.

The Amador district board has an executive session slated tonight at 8 at the District Education Center in Pleasanton.

Woolworth said there'll also be an Amador district representative council meeting this afternoon and a huddle with Jim Sutton of the California Teachers Association (CTA) this evening.

The district recently went to fact-finding, though a hearing officer and date have yet to be settled upon.

New face on board tonight

LIVERMORE — Gail Sidhu will be sworn in tonight as the Livermore Unified School District's newest board member.

The local businesswoman was elected March 8 to fill the seat of Ken Englund, who resigned from the board last December with two years to go. She defeated candidates Barbara Stear and Jack Thornton for the seat.

Jan Brice, who unseated incumbent Dr. James McFarlane, will be sworn in April 12 for her four-year term.

Tonight's public school board meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd. Trustees will also decide whether to allow local high-school students to be a control group for a drug study program.

Angler's bonanza weekend

By 3:30 in the afternoon about 30 other people had discovered the teeming fishing hole.

Every minute or two, there was the flash of another trout being reeled in. "Must've been 300 caught at this spot alone today," one veteran guessed. Kids were cleaning fish on the spot just to re-use the red salmon eggs in their stomachs.

A bad place to loll in the sunshine. "Hold my pole, will ya? I have to string this fish and bait the kids' hooks and —"

No time for beer.

The Del Valle concession stand was wallowing in business. All 25 boats rented out, all weekend long according to Ron Nowell, who was a bit bemused by all the excitement.

He said the fish had been stirred out of their usual feeding holes because the lake is being filled to its summer level, creating temperature and water-depth changes that force the fish to move from one habitat to another.

"The fish are scattered," he reports, "and biting all over the lake."

He added some 57,000 fish, most weighing four ounces or so apiece, have been planted in the lake since Nov. 1.

"Which will make for some great fishing next year when they're bigger," he promised.

Fishing insiders also say the Delta water which is pouring into Del Valle Lake is laced with larger fish.

Besides the five-pound trout somebody caught over the weekend, at the concession stand they're still talking about the 22½-pound striped bass caught three weeks ago from a boat in the deep water near the dam.

A "pink lady" baited with a "five-inch rebel" was the winning combination on that one. Bass fishermen also cleaned out the supply of nightcrawlers. "They're striking at most anything," reports Nowell with delight.

Easter prep

Getting ready for the traditional Easter Sunday festivities at Dunsuir House and Gardens in Oakland are the Easter Bunny and her helpers, Adam, Sonya and Eric Nielsen of Livermore, and two canine friends, "Alicia," a Doberman, and "Patches," a Sheltie. The day's events include exhibitions by precision Great Danes and Doberman drill teams, puppet shows and treats for the youngsters. Admission for Easter at Dunsuir, which includes a tour of the turn-of-the-century manse, will be $2.50 for adults, $1 for ages 11 to 16, 25 cents for children two through 10.

Airport budget proposed

LIVERMORE — A proposed $369,683 budget was presented to the airport advisory committee during a special session Saturday.

Public Works Director Dan Lee presented a document which showed the airport will have spent an estimated $13,796 less than is budgeted in the current fiscal year. The increase for next year, he told The Times, comes mainly from escalating fuel costs.

The fuel costs are passed along to airport users, he said, indicating an expected revenue in next year's budget of $368,234. Combined with $1,005 balance in the airport budget, the total revenue is expected to be only $444 less than costs, he said.

"Basically this is a balanced budget," he said, noting the airport is not financed through city taxes.

The proposed budget includes $53,220 for salaries, $265,620 for materials and supplies and $50,843 for capital outlay.

Adult sports list ready from LARPD

LIVERMORE — A drop-in coed adult sports schedule for volleyball, badminton, table tennis and basketball has been released by Livermore Area Recreation and Park District.

Volleyball is at Livermore High School small gymnasium, Tuesdays, 7-10 p.m.; and Camp Parks gym, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7-10 p.m.

Badminton is at Livermore High School small gym, Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. Table tennis is held the same gym, Sundays, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Basketball is at Livermore High School small gym, Mondays and Wednesdays, 7 to 10 p.m., Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Camp Parks gym is leased from the Department of the Army and is open to all LARPD, Pleasanton and VCSO residents. All drop-in sessions cost 25 cents.

What does your car cost you

By SYLVIA PORTER
Do you know how much it costs you to own and operate the car you now drive? How much it will cost you for a new model?

What you will spend over a 10-year period for gas? Maintenance? Insurance? Automobile taxes?

The total cost to you, owner of a $5,000 standard-size American car over a 10-year period will be nearly $18,000.

During that span, you'll drive the car roughly 100,000 miles, based on typical operations in the Baltimore, Md. suburbs — not necessarily a national average, but a yardstick for focusing on your own comparative data.

Gas (even at 1976 pump prices) averages out to $3,193 for 6,667 gallons, excluding tax. (Raise that at once, even if you can't be precise.)

Maintenance and repairs come to $3,664, and insurance costs add another $1,678.

Automotive taxes are responsible for another $1,562 bite, while garaging, parking and tolls are projected at $2,209.

The new U.S. government study — the sixth since 1950 on the "Cost of Owning and Operating an Automobile" — is the work of L.L. Liston and C.A. Aiken of the Federal Highway Administration. The vehicles studied were a standard size four-door sedan, an American-made compact and an American subcompact.

The purchase price in each case was considered the "sticker" price less an assumed dealer discount allowed on the car.

The study's intent is to trace each vehicle and its costs through a 10-year lifetime of 100,000 miles. While a car usually passes through two, three or more owners during its life, the costs of these changes are not included in this report.

Although you may think of your automobile costs mostly in terms of outlays for gas, oil, tires and tolls, there are other expenses whether or not the car is driven and still others directly related to the amount of travel.

For instance, depreciation, insurance, finance charges, registration and titling fees, and accessory costs. Among the major costs:

(1) Depreciation, the biggest single cost of owning and operating a car. For the standard-size, the greatest depreciation occurs in the first few years, when newer cars are driven more miles than older ones.

On the standard-size car, if bought new at $4,914 and sold or traded at the end of the first year, when it had been driven 14,500 miles, depreciation would be around $1,215, or an estimated 8.4 cents per mile.

By the end of the second year, when the car had been driven 27,500 miles, depreciation would total $1,963 or an estimated 7.1 cents per mile.

(2) Insurance costs depend on the amount of the coverage, the purpose for which the car is used, the location in which the car is operated. The light subcompact saves money in gas consumption but costs relatively more to repair than bigger sizes.

The annual collision frequency rate is now 10.7 per 100 cars, with you, the average motorist, involved in an accident twice during an eight-year period, of which one probably will be your fault.

'Con Man'

After the telephone call, the con man told attendant Paul Viscovich, 18, Dublin, that "your boss says OK," took $140 with a gold and diamond watch as collateral and walked away.

Viscovich became suspicious and called Krissovich who told him he had told the man he wouldn't give him any money.

Deputies searched the area but could find no trace of the man who was described as in his 40s and wearing gold-rimmed glasses.

Honors for those who serve scouting here

At the annual recognition dinner held recently in honor of those who have provided outstanding services to the Scouting program in the Twin Valley district, Len Whitbred, Barry Schrader, Barney Maciolek and Bill Bower received the highranking Award of Merit.

Hosted by Howard Neely, Bill Bower and Tom Hardy, the dinner also honored Bob Senft and Alvin Richards, winners of the coveted Bronze Burro medals. Janet Cornell, Don Frazier and Bill Wilson received Cub plaques, and Scout plaques were awarded to R.C. Heinitz, Hal Wilson, Jim Davis and Wayne Wilson.

A district plaque was presented to Bonnie Mayberry, and Vern Stokkeland, Joan Wells, Gerhard Schwaegerle, Ralph Gordner and Mabel Washburn were recipients of Special Recognition plaques.

Scout Troop Advancement Awards were earned by Troops 945, 946 and 906. Top honors for Cub Pack Advancement were earned by Packs 916, 944 and 914.

Unit citations were awarded to Ed Spies, Roy Silcox, Dixie Marshall, Gail Andrews, Craig Leighty, Len Anderson, Mabel Washburn, Arlene Silvas, Audrey Sato and Renee Brobst.

Special awards were presented to Troop 939 for having the longest tenure in the district, and to Troop 916 for having the highest number of Eagle Scouts in the district.

The Woodbadge Award was earned by the members of the Fox Patrol, and Training Awards were received by Jean Knowles, Jean Wells, Larry Horn, Don Frazer, Hal Wilson, Vern Stokkeland, Bill Cromwell and Wayne Wilson.

Twin Valley District Executive Tom Hardy was awarded the unique Montego Kid Award, and special Understanding Spouse Awards were earned by Marlene Maciolek, Wilma Bower, Thomas Wells and Sandi Senft.

At a recent Annual Recognition Dinner, Twin Valley Scouting Chairman Bill Bower (left) presented unit citations to Craig Leighty, Ed Spies, Len Anderson, Arlene Silvas and Audrey Sato. The highest district recognition, the Award of Merit, was given to Len Whitbred, Barry Schrader, Barney Maciolek and Bill Bower.

The bank that personal effort built brings back the personal banker.

John Valentine

His stagecoach stranded by an unexpected mountain snowstorm in the early spring of 1864, Wells Fargo expressman John Valentine picked up the mail sacks and carried them the rest of the way on foot, down from the Sierra Nevada high country to the foothill town of Placerville.

One of a handful of men ever to walk across the Sierra Nevada Mountains in snow season, John J. Valentine in 1892 became president of Wells Fargo. He served in that capacity until 1901.

Vivian Hicks

It's in John Valentine's spirit of outstanding service that Wells Fargo is now offering you a personal banker.

One person, like Vivian Hicks, who's assigned to you at your request.

Someone you can call upon for personal effort: to open a savings account, to transfer funds from savings to checking, to arrange a loan, or to assist with any other banking service.

A personal banker.

From the bank John Valentine's personal effort helped build.
